To all to whom these presents shall come, greeting:

Whereas, by the Act of Congress approved July 1, 1862, as amended by the Act of July 2, 1864, "relating to the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from the Missouri River to the Pacific Ocean, and to secure the permanent service of the same for the military and other purposes" and the Act of March 3, 1863, authority is given to the Pacific Railroad Company of California, in consideration of the execution of said railroad and telegraph line, under such conditions and stipulations as specified in said Acts, and permission is given for granting to the said company by written directions for such land designated by the said railroad and telegraph line, and accordingly, the President of the United States does, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, for and in the name of the United States of America, grant to the Pacific Railroad Company, and to their heirs and assigns, a strip of land of not less than ten miles, containing a mile on each side of the said railroad and telegraph line, containing and being between the same limits of twenty miles on each side of said railroad, as aforesaid, and so otherwise disposed of, land, United States and Central.
a precaution or terminations thereof may not have attached at the point where the line is defined is definitely said.
And the act of official statement bearing date February 1877, from the Secretary of the interior has been filed with the railroad department. The proposed line of the railroad and telegraph right-of-way may be shown on the map at the hands of the President in such manner as to be satisfactorily completed and equipped in the manner prescribed by the act of Congress relating the Pacific Railroad and Telegraph Line.

And Whereas, by virtue of the powers and discretion under the laws of the State of California and the Pacific Railroad Company and the Central Pacific Railroad Company, said lines having been partly completed, and in conformity with the exigencies of the Central Pacific Railroad Company, the Secretary of the Interior, in June 1877, has from the certified copies of the articles of formation filed with the Secretary of the interior on the twenty-eighth day of September 1873, by J.S. Richardson, Vice President of said Central California Railroad Company,

And Whereas, certain tracts of land have been procured by Benjamin P. Reading, the agent of the said Central Pacific Railroad Company, in the name of the said Central Pacific Railroad Company, within the several lines of the said Central Pacific Railroad Company, in the names of the land in the State of California, and the said President of the Central Pacific Railroad Company, the Central Pacific Railroad Company, has applied for a continuation of the land to said grant, under date of July 12 and December 23, 1876, by J.S. Richardson and George A. San Francisco and Stockton Railroad
